You're invited to the 2009 Annual Conference of West Virginia's Apprenticeship Group (WVJLUMATAC). We develop partnerships between Labor, Management, Government, Education, Private industry, and public programs. Together we work toward improving the overall apprenticeship opportunity for everyone involved.

Our 2009 Annual Conference is our biggest ever and has something for everyone. From breakout sessions on training and apprenticeship and sessions for contractors, and business owners, to speakers on some of the most important issues concerning business and labor today.

This year, WV's ACT Foundation has sponsored guest speaker Mark Breslin, the world renowned labor/management speaker.

We'll have a special portion of the conference dedicated to Green construction. But not just another "HOW to build Green"... But how it affects your business, what to prepare for in the future, and why we should be paying attention to "green" legislation that may affect us.

Plan to spend these important days with us as we hear from Nancy Casto (WV Dept. of Highways), Ken Milnes (US Dept. of Labor), David Mullins (WV Comm. Of Labor), Steve White (ACT Foundation), Richard Jeffrey (OSHA), Barbara McCabe (IUOE National HAZMAT program), and more...

MARK BRESLIN Skills, Attitudes, Behaviors

Mark Breslin is a renowned speaker, trainer and strategist specializing in market share strategies for labor and management across the United States and Canada. His expertise includes:

- ▼ Labor-Management Business Development
- ▼ Rank and File Attitudes and Productivity
- ▼ Apprenticeship Training Tools and Curriculum
- ▼ Labor-Management Change Strategies and Policies

Speaking to over 50,000 contractors, labor leaders, rank and file members and apprentices each year, his stated mission is to significantly increase union market share across North America through his proven business, marketing, communication and training strategies.

Known for his blunt, insightful and uncompromising style, Mark has made presentations to over 100,000 labor, management and rank & file union members across the U.S. and Canada, and has focused on business development and effective market share recovery, and training strategies.
